

Nixon Denies Seeking Deal With Knight

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Richard M. Nixon denies he sought a secret deal to get former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight out of the 1962 race for California's Republican gubernatorial nomination.

"False and libelous on its face," the former vice president said Friday of Knight's charge: That Nixon sent an emissary to offer Knight any state job he wanted if Knight withdrew.

"No person representing me or authorized by me has made such a promise," said Nixon.

Knight retorted, "I will disclose the name of Nixon's pressure emissary and present my proof and witnesses at a public press conference within a very few days."

These were the latest developments in a dispute between California's two top Republicans—a long-simmering feud that has come to a boil since Nixon announced his candidacy for governor Wednesday night.

Knight, now a Los Angeles TV commentator, claims Nixon engineered the GOP maneuvering that forced him to step aside as governor in 1958 to allow then U.S. Sen. William F. Knowland to run for that office. Knight ran for Knowland's Senate seat. Both lost badly.

Knight claims—and Nixon denies—that Nixon, then vice president, wanted both men defeated so he could have unquestioned control of California's Republican party.

The latest rupture in the never-cordial relations between Nixon and Knight started in this fashion:

On the eve of Nixon's nationally televised news conference Wednesday night, William A. Munnell, state Democratic chairman, issued a statement claiming a Nixon friend offered Knight a secret deal to withdraw from the race.

The next morning, Knight told newsmen that he had been offered any state job he wanted—including California chief justice—in a telephone call Sept. 7 by a wealthy Republican friend of Nixon's.

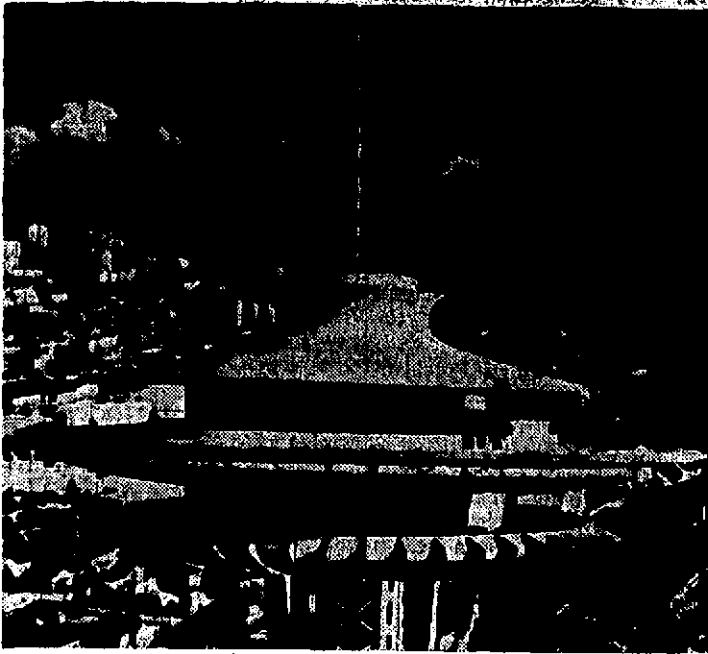

Robert Finch, Nixon's 1960 campaign manager, termed Knight's report "totally preposterous."

He later, plagued by intraparty fights for years in California, obviously was happy at signs of an intramural GOP squabble.

Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown, expected to seek re-election, suggested Nixon withdraw if Knight's charges were true.

Then Nixon counter attacked today. In a statement telephoned to newsmen by aides in his law office, Nixon said: "Mr. Knight's charge that an unnamed individual representing me offered him a job to step out of the race for governor is false and libelous on its face."

"I demand that Mr. Knight and every newspaper and television and radio station which carried this charge publish a retraction. I have never made any promise of any kind to Knight or any other individuals to keep them out of the race for governor."

Jackson Will Direct State Hospital

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Dr. George Jackson resigned Thursday as director of institutions for the Kansas Board of Welfare, to take the superintendent's job at the Arkansas State Hospital.

State Hospital Board Chairman Olen Hendrix of Prescott said Jackson can have the Arkansas job if he wants it. He said he had been unable to contact Jackson to discuss terms.

Jackson resigned from the $27,000-a-year post in Kansas and said he was returning to Arkansas "for personal reasons." He said he would like to bring the Arkansas State Hospital program up to a level "which I hope can equal the program here in Kansas."

He probably will take a salary cut of $9,000 a year, since the Arkansas job pays $18,000. Jackson will replace Dr. Grinnell L. Jones, who has been superintendent since 1956.

He suffered a heart attack a year ago and probably will be placed in a less strenuous job as assistant superintendent at $16,000 a year.

Jackson, 47, was superintendent of the Arkansas State Hospital from 1946 to 1951. He took a job in Texas, then went to Kansas.

His resignation there did not come as a surprise. Hendrix said Jackson had been offered the Arkansas job and had indicated earlier this week he would accept.

In addition to his salary, Jackson could receive $1,500 a year for having a certificate in psychiatry, plus housing, rations and an automobile.

The Kansas board said the date of Jackson's departure has not been settled but he has assured Arkansas officials he will arrive here soon. He said he would like to leave about Dec. 1.

Hendrix said the board would like Jackson to start work earlier than Jan. 1 on a consulting basis to help plan a new $6,048,440 administration building, for which the first 1961 special session of the legislature provided funds.

Jackson is a native of West Tennessee.

Lower Grain Rates Recommended

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Interstate Commerce Commission examiner today recommended lower maximum rates on railroad shipments of grain and grain products into and within the South.

Reductions would range from 5 per cent on maximum authorized charges for shipments from the Far West to 15 per cent on those from the Illinois-Indiana-Ohio grain belt.

If approved by the ICC, the recommendations would result in an overhaul of a complex rate structure which has been the subject of more than three years of hearings by the commission.

Move Didn't Turn Out Safe

NEW YORK (AP)—Two months ago, fearing for the safety of their little boy, Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Guarino moved from congested Brooklyn to a residential area of Staten Island.

Thursday, Mrs. Guarino heard a woman scream and saw a crowd assembling at a nearby site of an excavation for a new home.

When she arrived at the scene she saw the broken body of her son, Michael Jr., 7, under a bulldozer.

Police said the boy slipped from an embankment into the path of the moving machine.

Prior Murder May Avert Execution

SPOTSVYLVANIA, Va. (AP)—A prior murder conviction may determine whether Melvin Davis Rees Jr. will escape execution in the 1959 kidnapping of a Virginia family of four.

Death in the electric chair was decreed for the suave, 32-year-old dance band musician Thursday by a jury that found him guilty of first-degree murder in the killing of Carroll V. Jackson Jr., 29, 2½ years ago.

But Virginia's ability to carry out the judgment depends on the willingness of the federal government to commute two life sentences already imposed on Rees, arrested last year at West Memphis, Ark., in the same case.

The life terms were meted out earlier this year in Baltimore, where Jackson was convicted of kidnapping and slaying Jackson's wife, Mildred, 27, and one of their two daughters, Susan, 6.

A second Jackson daughter, Janet 18 months also was slain after the Apple Grove, Va., family was abducted from its car Jan. 31, 1959, in what the prosecution here called "the worst crime in Virginia history."

The jury of 10 men and two women needed less than 25 minutes to return its verdict Thursday.

The Justice Department said in Washington the federal sentences of life imprisonment take precedence over the state's death penalty. A spokesman said the life terms could be commuted to give Virginia custody of Rees, but he said there would be no move in this direction until all possibilities of appeals by the defendant are exhausted.

Two months after the family disappeared while returning home from visiting relatives, the bodies of Jackson and his younger daughter were discovered under a pile of brush near Fredericksburg. The bodies of the mother and older daughter were found two weeks later near Gambrills, Md.

Cuba Distributes Red Propaganda

MANILA (AP)—Demands for a break in relations with Cuba arose today after a Cuban diplomat detected and charged his embassy is distributing Communist and subversive propaganda.

Jorge Freire Gonzalez, 26, as assistant charge d'affaires, was about to board a plane for Havana Thursday when he suddenly told his chief, Andres Alvino Soler, that he was remaining in the Philippines.

Gonzalez rode off in a car with Lt. Col. Jose G. Lukban, chief of the National Bureau of Investigation, Philippine counterpart of the U.S. FBI.

Foreign Secretary Felixberto Serrano said he would not hesitate to recommend severing diplomatic relations with Cuba if 'Gonzalez' charges are borne out. He added, in response to questions, that government investigative agencies now are checking the Cuban's statements.

Infant Child Dies Here Friday Night

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Cook Jr. died this morning in a local hospital.

She is survived by her parents, her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Watson of Hope and E. W. Cook Sr. of Texarkana.

Graveside services were held this morning at 10 a.m. in Rose Hill Cemetery with Rev. Rufus Sorrells officiating. Oakerest Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Christmas Plans Now Being Made

WASHINGTON (AP)—It may seem a little early, but they're starting plans for Christmas observance at the Capitol now.

Notes sent to all Congress members and Capitol employees urge them to contribute generously to a fund to finance a big Christmas tree and daily singing of Christmas carols by choirs.

The Christmas fund memo was signed by J. Lewey Conway, superintendent of the Senate Office Building, and Morgan D. Roderick of the Senate sergeant-at-arms staff.

Women Put to Work in East Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—East Germany put girls and women to work today at turning sections of Berlin's East-West border into a no man's land. West Berliners call it "the death strip."

The women joined thousands of laborers clearing ground and razing houses under the supervision of armed guards along the 25-mile sector border. The appearance of women suggested a manpower shortage in East Berlin.

Female workers were sighted along the Tellow Canal opposite the American zone. A number of fugitives have escaped to freedom by swimming the waterway.

Communist workers are striving to turn such areas in suburban sections of the border into zones bereft of cover to give Red guards a clear view of escapes. The rest of the border has long been marked by a similar dead zone.

Despite the effort to seal the border ever tighter, East Germans continued to filter through to the West. Another 20 persons were reported to have made it across by midnight.

Elsewhere in East Germany, thousands of Communist agents were reported working to tighten security along the common border with West Germany.

A private intelligence agency, Information Bureau West, said residents of the 835-mile border have been told to report the presence of anyone who slips into the three-mile-wide border zone without official permission.

The Communist regime continued its effort to depict escapes as victims forced or lured out of East Germany.

The East German Foreign Ministry accused the United States of organized kidnapping in evacuating seven refugees from the Stein-Stuecken enclave by U.S. Army helicopter Wednesday.

Steinstuecken is a hamlet lying a mile from West Berlin. Surrounded by East German territory, it is part of West Berlin. The hamlet has become a symbol of Western rights in Berlin and was visited by Gen. Lucius D. Clay the day after he took up his duties as President Kennedy's special representative in Berlin.

Sam Ingram, 64, Dies Friday in Nashville Hospital

Sam Wright Ingram, aged 64, a retired farmer and cattleman, died Friday in a Nashville hospital. He was a lifelong resident of Hempstead County.

Survivors include a brother, Autry Ingram of Nashville; two sisters, Mrs. Jessie Spears of Texarkana and Miss Myrtle Ingram of Nashville.

Services were held Saturday at 3 p. m. at Sardis Methodist Church by the Rev. A. W. Hamilton. Burial by Latimer Funeral Services was in Sardis Cemetery.

No Leg Show, Ladies Warned

LONDON (AP)—Conservative party ladies were urged today not to turn the party's annual conference next month into a leg show.

A piece of advice from party headquarters on how the ladies should deport themselves was carried in "Right Approach," a magazine issued by the ruling party's central office.

"From an audience viewpoint," it said, "the front row of the platform and the front row of a chorus have one distinctive feature in common—legs, legs, legs."

With engaging frankness, the magazine told the lady delegates: "First of all, sit up straight and well back in the chair and in all circumstances keep your knees close together."

"If you must, cross your ankle but never cross your knees. And please, oh please, never assume the 'kneeswide' position, so popular with football teams when being photographed."

Civilian Group Promises Syria a Democracy

By WEBB MCKINLEY

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Syria's conservative, new civilian government dissolved the military group that boosted it to power and promised democracy and constitutional rule today.

In a speech broadcast by Damascus radio, Premier Mamoun Kuzbari wrote the climax to a virtually bloodless coup by striking out on an independent road from President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic directed from Egypt.

What Nasser had built up in less than four years as the first step toward his dream of a single "Arab nation" under Egyptian leadership crumbled in about 48 hours and left the nations of the Middle East maneuvering for position.

Turkey and Jordan—always wary of Nasser's ambitions—recognized Kuzbari's new government. Tunisia's President Habib Bourguiba sent a friendly telegram to Nasser expressing regret at the revolution and hope that the dispute could be settled peacefully.

Kuzbari, with a reputation as a brilliant lawyer and a political history of support from Syria's right wing, announced that the revolutionary command "has finished its mission at this point and returned to the normal functions of defending the country."

He promised "a true and democratic life for Syria" and said he would "lead the country within four months to a constitutional stage." He did not elaborate.

Kuzbari also touched on what appeared to be the prime impetus behind the revolution—increasing Egyptian domination of Syria. He complained that Egypt had made Syria a junior partner in the U.A.R.

Landowners also are unhappy at Nasser's land reforms, and Syria's traditionally free-wheeling merchants have been chafing under his strict economic controls, with policy dictated mainly from Cairo.

While conceding defeat on the military field, Nasser may not give up so quickly in the political realm. He told a rally in Cairo Friday: "We lost some battles, but the final result was always the principles for which we fought."

Nowhere in his speech did Kuzbari specifically say that Syria was withdrawing from the U.A.R. or proclaiming itself independent, although his actions amounted to that.

U.S. officials in Washington adopted a go-slow attitude until they see how the new regime performs. They also want to retain friendly relations with Nasser.

Jr. Auxiliary to Aid Bear Creek Lodge

Bear Creek Lodge, near Marianna, well known for good fishing and relaxation will take on a new complexion October 4th.

Though dressed for the atmosphere of Bear Creek, the approximately 200 women who will descend upon this spot will have work and plans for work uppermost in their minds.

Rolling up their sleeves and getting down to business will be the representatives of the Chapters of Regions II and V of the National Association of Junior Auxiliary.

Formerly these Regions were combined. Due to the growth of the organization the region has been divided to facilitate more efficient contributions to the areas served. After this meeting the Hope Chapter will be a part of Region V which includes Conway, Hot Springs, Nashville, North Little Rock, Russellville, and Searcy.

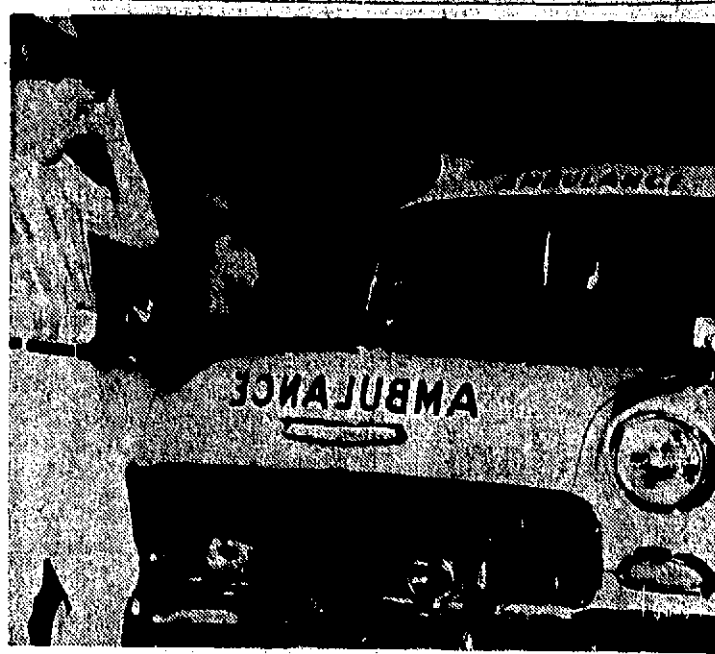

During the day of meeting workshops will be conducted, successful projects discussed, and new ideas presented with the purpose of strengthening the proficiency of each local chapter in community service.

Typhoon Hits Formosa

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Sally, a powerful tropical storm that started out as a typhoon, lashed southeast Formosa today, flooding lowlying areas of this Nation.

Sally hit Formosa with typhoon force winds of 92 miles an hour and heavy rains, then dropped to 72 miles an hour when it struck the north-south mountains chain across the island.

There were no immediate reports of severe damage or casualties.

B&PW Emphasizes Important Role Women Play in World Business Affairs Today

By MARY ANITA LASETER
Feature Writer

"Womanpower Today" represents a dimension of over-increasing importance to the future American democracy," said Richard Wagner, President of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. For that reason there is special meaning for the theme of National Business Women's Week, "Womanpower"—a dimension in democracy.

The observance of this special week is of national scope from October 1 through 7. Locally, the Hope Business and Professional Women's Club comes to the forefront with the observance of National Business Women's Week.

The president, Mrs. Lena Maryman, tells us there are 53 members of the local group. They represent 13 different types of jobs, including secretaries, teachers, state government employees, housewives, beauticians, telephone company personnel, officer manager, photographer, county government employees, store clerks, bookkeepers, and stenographers. As a result of a recent survey by the U. of A. research center, it was learned that approximately 1/3 of the potential labor force in Hempstead County is made up of women.

It is almost the birthday of the Hope B & PW Club, for it was organized with 26 members October 24, 1924 in the home of Dr. Elta Champaign under the guiding hand of Miss Mary Burgess of Texarkana. The first president was Miss Beryl Henry now of Benton. Several years ago Miss Henry was made an honorary member of the Hope B & PW Club. She and Mrs. F. E. Russell are the only charter members who still belong to the Hope club.

The only state president from Hope was Mrs. Margaret Simms McDonald in 1931. Miss Simms had served as the second president of the Hope B & PW, and it was in her tenure of office that the Student Loan Fund was begun with a $5 contribution.

In 1933 members of the Hope B & PW Club furnished a room at the Julia Chester Hospital. They are also credited with starting the first library in Hope in the City Hall. The first shelf of books were contributed by the club.

The Student Loan Fund is the main project of the Hope B & PW Club. After several years lapse, it was renewed about 10 or 12 years ago. At the present time the club has five loans out amounting to approximately $2,300. The largest single loan is for $1,000.

Today and tomorrow a delegation of Hope B & PW members will be attending the Southwest District Fall Conference in Magnolia, where District Director Rosa Harrie will be presiding. Next Wednesday, October 4 working women in Hope are invited to take their coffee breaks at the First National Bank Building Community Room, where the Hope B & PW Club will have coffee all morning and afternoon.

President John F. Kennedy said, "New dimensions for the women's role in society have always been drawn at time of stress. At home the expansion of our economic life and increase in our growth rate is basic to the fulfillment of our purposes."

The words of our national President illustrate those of the National B & PW Club President Katherine Peden, who urges all working women to join her in making womanpower a powerful dimension in democracy.

Urges Support of Boy's Clubs

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover urged more public support Thursday for Boys' Clubs and children's aid centers.

The former president said such character-building organizations are "the sunlight of hope for the future of America."

Jackson Has Way to Plan Programs

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—Dr. George Jackson, a Kansas legislator once said, could talk you out of your shirt, then make you want to thank him for taking it.

The legislator was not being critical. He was voicing admiration of the success Jackson has had in explaining the state's mental hospital program and its needs to the lawmakers.

Jackson is expected to become superintendent of the Arkansas State Hospital at Little Rock after nine years at the helm of a Kansas program that has attracted national attention.

In that time, admissions to Kansas mental hospitals has tripled while the number of patients hospitalized at any one time has dropped from 4,000 to less than 2,000.

Kansas hospitals have been releasing 85 to 95 per cent of the patients admitted in their first year, as against a national average of 45 to 60 per cent.

As a result, Kansas, once near the top.

Emphasis in the program was on brains—personnel to treat the mentally ill—rather than on bricks—buildings which could be merely places of custody if not staffed properly.

Recently, with the treatment program well established, a start has been made on replacing outmoded buildings with the latest in mental hospital facilities.

Jackson, handsome and prematurely gray at 47, still has traces of a Southern drawl and carries a twinkle in his eye.

He is a native of Tennessee and received his M.D. degree from the University of Tennessee in 1937. After three months in private practice he was appointed assistant physician and later assistant superintendent of Western State Hospital at Bolivar, Tenn.

He spent 3½ years in military service at Camp Blanding, Fla. The last two years there he was chief of the neuropsychiatric section.

Following the war he spent five years at Arkansas State Hospital. He went to Texas for two years, then came to Kansas.

Mrs. Jackson, a native of Armstrong Springs, Ark., was training for nursing when she met her husband as a student at the University of Tennessee.

They have three sons, Barry, 23; Tommy, 21; and Bobby, 16.

No Deals With East Germany, Allies Declare

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

NEW YORK (AP)—The Western powers are reported to have told the Soviet Union that they have no intention of negotiating with Communist East Germany over the right to keep Allied troops in West Berlin.

The future status of the U.S., British, and French garrisons is one of the critical issues that have arisen in talks held separately by Secretary of State Dean Rusk and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

This series of New York talks, which began Sept. 21, is ending today, but Rusk and Gromyko plan to meet again in Washington sometime next week.

In Washington, it is understood Gromyko hopes to have a conference also with President Kennedy, but U.S. officials said the meeting has not yet been arranged.

The talks, which actually mark the start of informal negotiations over a compromise settlement, have dealt with three major aspects of the Berlin crisis:

1. Rusk and Home have tried to impress upon Gromyko that the Western powers will fight to defend West Berlin and its access routes. Some aides of the two Western ministers think Soviet Premier Khrushchev now understands that he runs the risk of war if he overplays his hand.

2. Rusk has tried to discover whether Khrushchev is willing to agree to a basis for negotiations on Berlin. If he is, an East-West foreign ministers conference in November or December seems certain.

3. Rusk and Home have sought to explore the possibilities for success of a foreign ministers conference. In essence, they want to know whether Khrushchev is willing to compromise or whether he intends to dictate the terms of a settlement.

Gromyko's practice in the talks, Western informants say, has been to repeat stated Soviet policy. Thus he has reaffirmed his government's plan to sign a peace treaty with Communist East Germany by the end of the year. Gromyko is said to have argued that troops stationed in Berlin after the treaty is signed would be there by agreement with the East German government.

The West maintains that the troops are in Berlin by right of World War II conquest. Khrushchev's ultimate objective is complete withdrawal of the Western forces.

Kinda Hard to Fool the Little Wife

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Can you fool your wife about anything?

If you can, you must be a genius.

For the fine old masculine art of wife-fooling is rapidly becoming a vanished skill. Science, invention, law and government have conspired to make it all but impossible.

There was a time when the man of the house was something of a mystery to his household, and the real master of his manor.

That was largely because he was armored by financial secrecy. How much he was paid was a secret between him and his boss, and many a strong-minded husband chose not to share that secret with his wife and children.

"We can't afford it!" he could tell them when they tried to raid his treasury for some purchase he thought unnecessary. And his word was law, for no one else in the family knew the real size of his bankroll.

In that golden male past the only way a wife could estimate the old boy's worth was to go through his pockets after he fell asleep on pay night. Even then, if he had the common sense to stash some of his cash in his shoe, she thought him poorer than he was.

In those days a husband could use his stashed cash to bet on the ponies, invest in poker, handle his tab at the saloon or play the stock market—and his wife was none the wiser.

But today? All is changed. The joint bank account and the joint income tax return have made it impossible for a husband to fool the little woman about how much he earns or what he does with his money. She knows where every penny comes from—and where it goes.

He can't even earn a few dollars on an outside job and squirrel it away for a bit of wholesome private fun, or to mail to his dear old mother. Not, anyway without reporting it to Uncle Sam. And when he reports it to Uncle Sam he reports it to his wife, too. For she studies that joint income tax before she signs it.

It is practically impossible now to fool wives in other matters. A few examples:

An older husband once could marry a younger woman and lie to her about his age. Not any more. His driver's license, his passport, his insurance policy.

College May Move to Camden Plant

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A possible use for the administration area of the old Shumaker Naval Ammunition Depot at Camden is as a college campus.

This was disclosed Thursday by William A. Brown of Houston, Tex., attorney for the Brown Engineering Corp. of Houston which bought part of the property as surplus.

He said private interests are thinking of developing a new college in the area and are negotiating for part of the Shumaker administration and housing area property.

He made the remarks in connection with an application to the State Public Service Commission asking the agency to keep Shumaker's electric power and telephone service from being stopped Sunday.

Brown said he was not at liberty to elaborate on the statement. He would not say whether the company had any other prospects of selling the property.

Most Schools to Ask Some Tax

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Most Arkansas school boards will ask the voters to adopt in December the same tax rates voted last year, the Education Department said Thursday.

Only 26 boards proposed increases in millage rates. Two districts, Greenway in Clay County and Grady in Lincoln County, propose to reduce millage.

So far the largest millage rates proposed are 5 mill levies by Barton District in Phillips County and Alma District in Crawford County.

Eighteen mills is the minimum tax levy.

make his age about as secret from her as the date on her kitchen calendar.

Once a husband could stay out late with the boys, creep silently on stockings feet up the stairs, and the next morning assure his wife he got home three hours earlier than he did.

But not since wives started putting chain latches on the front door. For every burglar surprised by a chain latch, a thousand husbands have been caught flat-footed trying to sneak home late.

A modern husband who tries to fool his wife only kids himself and maybe makes laughter for the neighbors.

Daughter, Seeks to Unite Parents

By HELEN WORDEN, ERSKINE

Dear Helen: Three years ago my parents decided that the house was too small for all of us—the baby having arrived, so we began something I feel is ruining their marriage.

All except the baby take turns vacationing away from home. My mother becomes more and more ill-tempered with every whirl of this horrible merry-go-round. She will yell at my brothers and me in one breath and apologize in the next. We don't know where we stand, what with no permanent home and this spasmodic uprooting.

Mother disapproves of everything we do. Ever since I got back this time she has been going through my bureau drawers, poking through my personal belongings and reading my letters.

While we were on our last vacation I understand she was happy. Now that we're all together briefly, it's been terrible. What can I do to relieve the tension?—Bewildered

Dear Bewildered: You will never be able to bring your parents together until your mother faces the responsibilities that go with being a wife, mother and homemaker.

She undoubtedly loves her family else she would not strive to keep you together. At least part of the time. Her problem is lack of domestic coordination. Are you old enough to help with the housework and spell her out in caring for the baby? How about majoring in home economics and domestic science at school then putting what you learn to practical use by teaching her a thing or two about better home management? A well-organized, smoothly running home is a happy home. Play little mother!

Chapter XXXVI

While waiting to face his wife that evening, Stalcup prepared his defense, but when she walked in and he saw her expression, all he could deliver was: "Now wait a minute! Let's not lose our tempers."

"The most shocking spectacle I ever saw."

And then Stalcup saw that she was ready to burst out laughing, which, in fact, she did. After a time he said, "It wasn't that funny."

"You should have seen the look on your face," Marcia gasped. Stalcup grinned. "That's all I had to put on."

That same afternoon when Goody went home, he found Pearl had returned unexpectedly. Couldn't stand it away from TV, he thought sourly.

"Turn that thing off!" he commanded.

"Jump in the river, ya bum." Goodykoontz had been there already. He went into the kitchen and finished half a bottle of tequila that had survived. Then he went back to the living room, tore the lead-in wire loose, jerked the power wire free, picked up the set, and headed for the back door.

Parl hadn't seen her husband so coldly determined since the night she became attracted to him for the first time when he was throwing six of her brothers out of Slovene Hall, on top of three of her cousins. "We'll give it to my sister," she said.

Goodykoontz hesitated a moment longer. "Why?"

"Because I'm mad at her, that's why!"

After Perils was staged in full on the second try, Belinda decided that if she couldn't lick 'em, she would join 'em, and before anyone could stop her she was recruiting cancan girls to replace the French beauties, who had only one more week to go. To her great credit, she didn't get any older than 25.

On the eve of the departure of the French girls, the citizens held a dinner to honor them and the Utes for their outstanding contribution to the stop-'em campaign. The girls were made honorary members of the chamber and presented with perfume, which they needed like a hole in the head, though the token of appreciation pleased them.

The Utes, now highly esteemed members of the community, were given honorary memberships in the chamber, and cowboy hats,

Dear Helen: I am miserable because the boy I love hates rock 'n' roll. It is my life, second only to him. I listen to it all the time. He is crazy about classical music. I can't stand it. Every time either of us feels like listening to music we get into a fight. Otherwise we are the happiest couple in our neighborhood. What can I do?—Desperate.

Dear Desperate: Compromise. Let it be a 50-50 deal of Bach, Beethoven and Elvis Presley. One night classical, the next night rock 'n' roll. My guess is that after a couple of weeks of the classical, you'll lose your passion for rock 'n' roll. Taste in music is largely a matter of hearing that with which you are familiar. Once you get to know the exquisite harmonies of a Mozart concerto or a Chopin prelude you'll chuck the rockers.

Dear Helen: I am 14, and my beatnik pal girl friend 17. She is married and has two kids. We've been corresponding. But she hasn't answered my last four letters. Should I ask why, or drop this relationship? Believe it or not, I get along better with older women.—R.

Dear R.: This is May and December in reverse. Go back to your school studies and forget that you ever knew this beatnik cradle snatcher. Actually, she's more to blame than you. Be your age.

supplied at almost wholesale by Hawley Whitehorse, who was rather pleased at the personal publicity he was getting out of the ribbing he had to take because the papers had called him an Indian.

Edward T. Holzapfel was toastmaster at the banquet, and in rare fine form indeed. He had canceled Sludge Woodwin's $20 act and ordered his mechanics to put into automobiles only such parts as were actually required to make them run well. Holzapfel was sleeping so well that he wondered if he could possibly be overdoing the honesty bit.

Two weeks after the affair in the park, Glubman sold the Escalante to Jackson Canterbury, the Texan who had fired the initial shot in Bascomb Park. Glubby made a rather handsome profit on the deal.

Tarrant never did go to Death Valley after the Borax wagon wheel. His wife threatened to scalp Xavier if he didn't prevent the excursion. By canny Indian artifice, old X managed to shift Tarrant's interest from wheels to coffee grinders.

One of her most prized grinders was in the butt of a Civil War musket, which Xavier positively identified as the mill in which a private named Bushrod Bunker ground coffee for General Grant the night before the second day at Shiloh.

Happy as a mudhen when the wheels disappeared forever from her basement, Mrs. Tarrant went back to washing in the basement, trading the washer-dryer in her kitchen for a motorcycle, something she had always secretly yearned for.

Not long afterward she began to lose ground in the battle for the basement. It filled up with coffee grinders and her washing machine was snowed under.

Gideon Tarbusch, French hatchet man, took ten days to investigate the charges against Miss Cowgill, during which he sandwiched in several fishing trips with Councilman Heidegger.

Tarbusch's report to Dr. Crutch of French exonerated Miss Cowgill of all the charges made against her in Belinda's letter, signed by Mrs. Parmenter. Then Miss Cowgill promptly resigned, much to Dr. Snoddy's delight.

One day when they were wandering along the limestone on Tuscarora Peak, they chanced upon the dump of the old Yellow Belly Mine. It was a perfect background for romance, and there Dr. Snoddy worked up his courage and popped the question.

Miss Cowgill considered nary a moment before saying "Yes!"

Accident Fatal
WARREN, Ark. (AP)—Grady H. Housen, 56, of Rt. 2, Warren, was killed Thursday when thrown from a truck in which he was riding after a collision with a car on a rural road about 20 miles south of here.

State Police said the truck, in which Housen was a passenger, and an automobile sideswiped.

Would Admit Outer Mongolia

By STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW (AP)—Justice William O. Douglas of the U.S. Supreme Court called today for quick U.S. recognition of Outer Mongolia and its immediate entry into the United Nations.

The U.N. Security Council is considering Mongolia's application. The United States has said it would not oppose Outer Mongolia but Nationalist China has threatened to veto the application.

Returning from a two-week camping trip through remote Outer Mongolia, Douglas said he found Mongolia's intellectuals "starved for contact with the West."

He said the claim of President Chiang Kai-shek of Nationalist China that Outer Mongolia is part of China is absurd.

"It's just as silly as it would be for London to claim the United States has no business in the United Nations because it is a British colony," he said.

"It's a terribly big country, very beautiful and very rich," he said in an interview over a cup of coffee. "They are self-sufficient in oil and gasoline and have vast deposits of iron, coal and feldspar."

He said he and his wife traveled in Russian jeeps and stayed either in real homes or ghera-herders tents.

He described conversations with intellectuals who have learned English in the 1,500-student university of the language institute.

Douglas said he saw little evidence of Soviet control.

"As seen as a factory is built, the Russian experts leave. There are certainly no Russians in the government and only a few Russian professors at the university," he said.

The Mongolians are a people who were crushed and walled off from the world by China for centuries. When they got their freedom, they turned West, and the nearest country was Russia. The Russians are doing a wonderful public relations job for themselves. There's none of that heavy handedness I saw in Yugoslavia when the Russians were there after the war."

Dr. Kildare Proves Fine TV Show

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A big hospital dealing with life and death, joy and tragedy is a perfect setting for a television series. And if the first episode of NBC's "Dr. Kildare" series is typical of shows to come, they ought to become popular entertainment.

The background is, of course, a big and busy city hospital.

Thursday night we met Dr. Kildare—no first name that I could try to win appointment as a resident under famous Dr. Gillespie. Of course, he does everything wrong, particularly his brusque, unfeeling treatment of a woman alcoholic.

But not to surprisingly it all works out nicely in the end with the alcoholic patient obligingly giving him a second chance, by trying suicide.

But let no one think the series will require him of all those old movies with Lew Ayres and Lionel Barrymore. Richard Chamberlain in the title role is a rather brisk, confident, young professional man. Raymond Massey's Dr. Gillespie is a stern and dedicated man, but not the teary, eccentric Barrymore played.

At any rate, "Dr. Kildare" gave promise of being a fast-paced, entertaining series.

to a limp and cliché-filled start, although the talented star managed to invest the program with much more humor and style than the tired plot deserved.

Miss Booth of course plays Hazel, the indomitable maid in the Baxter household.

Recommended weekend viewing: Tonight—"Robert Taylor's Detectives," season premiere on NBC, 8:30-9:30 (Eastern Daylight Time)—hour-long version of an established show on a new network and at a new time; "Father of the Bride," premiere, CBS, 9:30-10; "Target: The Corruptors," premiere, ABC 10-11—organized crime busting series.

Saturday—"Tales of Wells Fargo," season premiere, NBC, 7:30-8:30 p.m.—expanded version of Western. "Gunsmoke," season premiere, CBS, 10-11, hour-long version of a popular show.

Sunday—"Adlai Stevenson Reports," premiere, ABC, 3-3:30 p.m.—informal discussion series with Secretary of State Dean Rusk as guest; "Mister Ed," network comedy series with Alan Young; "Bus Stop," premiere, ABC, 9-10—dramatic series based on William Inge play, with Marilyn Maxwell; "Candid Camera," season premiere, CBS, 10-10:30—Dorward Kirby makes his debut as host on the practical joking show.

United States held to a strict hands-off policy toward the anti-Nasser Syrian revolt today while closely watching for new developments.

State Department press officer Joseph W. Reap outlined the U.S. noninterference policy Thursday by saying the cause of the uprising appears to be purely internal—not fomented by an outside power.

The United States recognizes the United Arab Republic and has friendly diplomatic relations with the Nasser regime.

Reap added that the Americans in Syria are believed to be safe. An estimated 400 to 600 U.S. citizens, depending on the number of American tourists, are in the area.

U.S. authorities reported no evidence at this time that Moscow was directing the revolt. But they were mindful of past occasions when the Reds were quick to step in to take advantage of Middle Eastern turmoil.

HEALTH HINTS

By DR. CHARLES JOHNSON — "CHIROPRACTOR"

Cause of Disease Approached From New Angle
A while back there were 500 medical scientific workers, 111 medical research institutions and 207 medical publications all researching into the human physiological side of the mental impulse, or nerve-energy, which has been the guiding principle of chiropractic since the year 1895.

Now, these medical research workers foresee a "new" era of nerve-wave-consciousness among former disbelievers. All the while, lives have been saved and health restored to millions through the application of chiropractic which has employed, since the year 1895, the principle of this so called "new discovery."

In 1895 Dr. D. D. Palmer discovered this entirely new health principle. He advanced the theory that there was a continuous mental impulse flow from the brain over the nervous system to all parts of the body controlling and regulating its every function; and that interference with the transmission of this energy flow causes abnormal function—or disease. This principle is no theory. Chiropractic has forged ahead and with the very latest instruments for measuring brain waves has already proven in the Laboratory the theory laid down in the early days: Clinical proof follows:

U. S. Files Suit

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - The federal government has filed a condemnation suit in U.S. District Court here on 190 acres in Conway County for a bank stabilization project on the Arkansas River. The suit names James C. Mitchell and members of the Mitchell family as defendants. The government estimated the land is worth $1,450.

U. S. Enters the Maritime Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Labor Department today called a meeting in San Francisco of parties to a West Coast maritime dispute.

Acting Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz wired to Paul S. Sure of the Pacific Maritime Association and Capt. Robert Durkin, head of the Masters, Mates and Pilots Union, saying a negotiating session had been set for 2 p.m. San Francisco time, at the maritime association office.

Deck officer members of Local 90 of the union struck Wednesday over a wage dispute.

5-Year Sentence

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) - William Watson Whitfield III was given a five-year prison sentence Thursday for interstate transportation of $17,000 stolen last month from the parked car of O. L. Hudgens of Des Arc, Ark. It was parked along the highway while Hudgens was taking a swim in the ocean. Whitfield was arrested in New Orleans Aug. 11. Most of the money was recovered.

Arkansas had dozens of acting governors, some having served as little as three days.

Castro Closes Gambling Casinos

By JOSE MARIA ORLANDO
HAVANA (AP) - The last of Havana's gambling casinos closed quietly today within minutes after Prime Minister Fidel Castro had announced his government is cleaning up the city, once wide open.

Addressing a huge rally at Havana's Square of the Revolution, Castro promised measures to rehabilitate Havana's prostitutes and drive out white slave racketeers.

He warned dealers in the vice they faced stiff penalties and told them to "go to Miami if they want. We will even pay their plane tickets." This was greeted with cheers.

The scene at the gambling casinos was more sober. Players immediately started leaving when told of Castro's order.

In the days of the Fulgencio Batista dictatorship, Havana had about 25 gambling casinos. They were a prime attraction for both tourists and American underworld figures who operated them—with a cut of the profits going to government officials.

The casinos were closed in the first days of Castro's regime early in 1959 but were reopened on a reduced scale to keep hotel employees and croupiers at work. At the end only about five were left and they operated in government run hotels.

Castro told the crowd that gambling made "even workers victims" but he was more concerned with the rich and the "exploiting elements."

Announcing the closing, he said six million pesos had passed through the casinos last month. That is about a million dollars at the free market exchange rate.

The purpose of the rally was to celebrate the first anniversary of the organization of his Committee for the Defense of the Revolution an intelligence network now reaching into the tiniest hamlet.

He said there are 107,000 committeees, each with at least 10 members. That would mean one in every six Cubans is a member and is assigned to watch on the behavior of his neighbors and fellowworkers.

Castro charged that many of the Cubans who have left Cuba, later returned as counterrevolutionary organizers. He said that anyone may leave "but whoever goes to the United States as a resident tourist will need special permission of the revolutionary government to return."

He then voiced his oft repeated accusations against the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency, saying it is providing the anti-Castro underground with explosives and other materials for sabotage and terrorism.

Castro also announced that Cuba had agreed with countries of the Communist bloc to sell them 4 1/2 million tons of sugar annually for the next four years "at prices above world market levels." He said this will allow Cuba to produce 6 1/2 million tons a year and thus provide work for sugar cane cutters.

Bobcats Lose To Malvern 26-20

By VINCE FOSTER
Hope Star Sports Editor

The undefeated Malvern Leopards came back from trailing 20-7 to take the Hope Bobcats 26-20 in a 4AA scrap last night. David Porterfield scored all of Hope's points before a near capacity crowd in Malvern.

Hope took the kickoff but could not move and was forced to kick. Porterfield's kick went 47 yards, out of bounds on the Malvern 5. The Leopards found themselves in serious trouble after two fumbles and tried to punt out. The punt traveled only 11 yards and went out on Malvern's 21. On the next play Murphy passed complete to Porterfield in the end zone for the first score. Porterfield's kick was true for the PAT and the Cats led 7-0.

Malvern took the kickoff and drove 60 yards in 12 plays to the Hope five, where they had a first down. The Bobcats held for three plays, but on the fourth Leopard QB Fielding carried it over from the one foot line. Homan's conversion was good and the game was tied up, 7-7.

Hope then drove 61 yards in 10 plays, highlighted by two 13 yard runs each by Crain and Dudley to the Malvern one, where Porterfield, scooped across. Again Porterfield's PAT was good and the Cats led 14-7.

Malvern drove to the Bobcat 32 yard line, where they were held and kicked to the Hope's. Porterfield picked up 18 yard on a scamper and then through Murphy's deceptive ball handling, carried for 9. Porterfield then scampered 45 yards to Malvern's 38, and plays later, carried the final 24 yards for Hope's final score. The PAT failed, but Hope led 20-7.

The Bobcats' 20 points were at that time more than had been scored against Malvern this season in four games.

Malvern moved to their own 45 after the kickoff, and then QB Fielding faded back to pass. He was chased back to his own 20, picked up some blocking, and then scampered all the way to Hope's 35. Glover carried for 12 and Fielding for 17 to Hope's six, where Cole plunged over plays later from the one. Homan's kick was true, but Hope had a 20-14 lead at halftime.

The Hope and Malvern hand performed for the halftime entertainment. Also present at the game were the pep squads from both schools.

Malvern roared back at the half to meet a tired, but leading Hope eleven. They quickly moved to Hope's 10, but were held until the count was 4th down with two yards to go. Here Cole again broke through to tie up the score. The PAT was wide and the score stood 20-20.

Hope took the kickoff and scooted to Malvern's 27, but a 15 yard penalty on the Cats stopped that drive. After an exchange of punts, Malvern drove 63 yards to the Hope one foot line, where QB Fielding sneaked over. Homan's PAT was wide, but Malvern led 26-20. With time running out and almost no blocking, Malvern stopped Hope's final drive at their own 47.

Porterfield led the Cats in rushing with 124 yards. Next was Crain who took 88. Dudley with 24, Wray with 16, Murphy with 15, and T. McLarty with 11. Cole led the victors with 103.

Previously this week the Hope "B" squad took their first victory of the season to the tune of 24-0 over Arkadelphia. This gives them a well balanced record of 1-1-1.

Next week the Bobcats play hosts to the Crossett Eagles in another 4AA tilt.

Refresh Your Soul Every Sabbath

Worship God In His Holy Sanctuary

"Oh, Come Let Us Sing Unto The Lord," For
There Is No Variableness
In God's Cause, Nor In His Justice, Then,
Come Let Us Go To Church

Change Works Its Corrosion Upon Us As We Approach Our
Rendezvous With Death
But, We Are Under
Sentence To Honor
God, To Ever
Support His Church

What's your station? What is your destination?
"There is a way that seemeth right unto a man, but the ends thereof are the ways of death." We are all aboard the train of life. Around the next curve may be your station. This is the road which leads to life eternal.
You may travel in this way if you will. Are you ready, prepared? Are your plans made? "The path of the just is as a drawing light that shineth more and more unto the perfect day." The 'Great Conductor' counsels: "Strive to enter in by the narrow gate!" To those who follow His counsel he says: "Ye shall find rest unto your souls." What is your station?
